LIFE ON MT. LASSEN

NO ROMANCE ABOUT IT BUT CONSTANT TOIL AND HARDSHIP

Reuben Gould, the Indian guide and tracker now visiting in Glendale, is not much of a talker, hence it required constant suggestions and leading questions from the Evening News reporter to induce him to reveal the secrets of Mother Nature he had acquired in the few years of his work as a guide to hunting and camping parties on the slopes of historic Mt. Lassen. He was born in Plumas County thirty odd years ago and has spent all his life there and in the adjoining county of Lassen. His father was a white man and his mother a Digger Indian of the pure aboriginal strain. He never knew his father and has made his own way from childhood. His earliest recollections center about mighty Lassen with its mantle of eternal snow. He knows its every gulch and canyon and its trackless forests are to him as familiar as city streets to us. For the past eight years he has been a guide with headquarters at Chester and as he knows all the marvels of that wonderful country of boiling lakes and icy snows, his services have been in constant demand since he began the work. He knows the wild beasts' lair and the rushing streams where lurk the rainbow trout. Cinnamon bears, coyotes, panthers and mountain lions, as well as deer and squirrels inhabit the dense forests and their most secret haunts are known to him. Wild

OAK STREET RESIDENTS URGE STREET WORK

Now that the bond election has been won and money is available for the purchase of pipe for new water mains, the residents of Oak Street west of Pacific Avenue are again clamoring for the improvement of that street, which has been put off from year to year until new mains could be laid. Every year the floods tear up the street, making it well-nigh impassable and the property owners are getting very impatient.

Mrs. W. C. Bradley, Mrs. Edna Irene Sawyer, S. H. Waller and C. H. Darling have worked long and faithfully on this matter and hope that now they may see the fruition of their hopes, as the improvement will add much to the value of their holdings.

NEW REAL ESTATE SALESMEN

The H. L. Miller Co. has had the good fortune to secure the services of E. T. Allen, who recently arrived from Pittsburg, Kansas, where he has been for several years and still is in the lumber business. He is a high-minded Kentucky gentleman and a good salesman. He has the factulty for treating his customers and all with whom he comes in contact with the greatest courtesy. Another addition to the sales force is Hal Rice, a son-in-law of H. L. Miller, who has been a teller in the Security Trust & Savings Bank, Los Angeles, for the past 17 years. He will commence his duties on January 1.

MOTORING TO WATSONVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. J .W. M. Burton of Montrose have a delightful auto trip in prospect. They are driving 372 miles north to Watsonville, where Mr. Burton will inspect a piece of property and Mrs. Burton will visit her brother, spending New Year at his home. As she has not seen him since her summer trip to her old home in North Carolina. She will have many things of interest to tell him. She and Mr. Burton will be gone about a week and will visit Gilroy as well as Watsonville.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

NEW NAMES ADDED TO ROSTER, OLD STUDENTS RETURN TO VISIT

In spite of the fact that it is not very close to the end of the semester, a number of new names have been added to the student roster at Glendale High. They include: Doris Montgomery of Huntington Park, Edith May de Baun of South Pasadena, Jessie Levy, who comes from Canada, and Marcus Thorniley, who has been a student at a military school in Kemper, Mo. The full daily enrollment is said to be 745. This includes the twenty or more special students in the sewing department.

NEW ADVENTIST CHURCH

IT IS THE FIRST OF FIVE SUCH BUILDINGS TO GET UNDER WAY

The Seventh-day Adventists have the start of the other four Glendale congregations that are planning new buildings for the coming year. They moved the old building from the southwest corner of Isabel and Wilson Avenue to the southeast corner of Isabel and California a few days ago and now the frame of the new part is rising behind it to the east. The old part is 32x50 and just behind this will be a room 30 feet east and west by 72 feet north and south. On either end there will be a space 20x30 curtained off for Sabbath School class rooms. Back of this central portion is a third section 18 feet E. and W. by 66 feet north and south. Class rooms will be partitioned off at either end and separated from the central section by curtains. Thus all four class rooms become a part of the auditorium when the curtains are drawn back. Between the rear class rooms will be the baptistry and dressing rooms. Just in front of the baptistry and in the center section there will be a rostrum 18 inches high on which the pulpit will be placed. To the south of this will be the choir loft. A concrete basement in the southeast corner will hold the furnace and toilets. A large stained glass window will beautify the front and all the other windows except those in the center class rooms will be of stained glass. These latter will be filled with moss pattern glass. The extreme length of the building east and west is 98 feet. The extreme width is 72 feet.

EX-NAVAL OFFICER VISITS SISTER IN GLENDALE

Dr. George J. Lund and wife of Los Angeles were in Glendale Sunday to visit their daughter, Mrs. Walter Stamps, 204 West Lomita Avenue. With them was their son, Lieutenant La Val Lund, who recently received his discharge from the navy. He was on the Nanshan, which was engaged during most of the period of the war in patrolling the waters of the Pacific coast. Several trips along the Alaskan coast have been made since the war ended. Lieutenant Lund had just graduated from a New York medical school when he entered the service. He left last night for that city to take a post graduate course in the various hospitals before beginning practice.

MAX GREEN HAPPY

Max Green is wearing a permanent smile and a visit to his agency headquarters reveals in part the cause of his contentment. Several new cars are on display there. He has received seven this month against three last month and two the month before, and like other dealers who have suffered from car shortage he has had to turn orders down. But he hopes from this time on to have at least a carload every month.

MEMBERS OF THE SOUTHERN CAL. ASSOCIATED DAILIES CONSIDER PRINT PAPER PROBLEM

Editors of the Southern California Associated Dailies met at the City Club rooms in the Los Angeles Investment Building Monday and discussed the seriousness of the scarcity of print paper. Representatives of the Los Angeles City dailies were present in the early afternoon and outlined their plans for conserving paper.

In addition to considering the scarcity of print paper the question of the best way for publishers to meet the increased cost of printing material, labor and essentials in producing a newspape.. was discussed.

Assemblyman Crombie Allen of Ontario, president of the association, appointed a committee to prepare resolutions recommending the course the members of the association should pursue during these times of paper shortage. The committee reported back resolutions which were adopted as follows:

Members of the Southern California Associated Dailies, representing the country daily newspapers of this district, in special session assembled hereby renew our acceptance of the rulings of the War Industries Board with reference to the conservation of print paper, and pledge the members of this association in good faith

HIGH SCHOOL PROBLEM

PROPOSED PURCHASES TO BE MADE FOR BUILDINGS TO BE CONSIDERED AT MASS MEETING

Glendale Evening News:

The committee appointed by C. T. Young from the High School bonds mass meeting held another session last evening at the school and went into lengthy discussion of the various suggestions which have reached the members in regard to proposed additions to grounds.

The several members have been hard at work to secure all possible information and to consider all propositions and the three following seem to cover the opinions presented:

First, to purchase all of the block east of the present site (bounded by Louise, Kenwood, Harvard, Colorado Boulevard) and 385 feet of Brand Boulevard frontage south from Harvard (comprising the ground from Harvard up to Masonic Temple) at an approximate cost of $116,000.

Second, to purchase the entire Brand Boulevard frontage from Harvard to Colorado Boulevard at an approximate cost of $94,500.

Third, to purchase the entire block to east of present site at an approximate cost of $75,000.

These are three propositions to be discussed at a mass meeting to be held this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the High School auditorium.

This is a district interest as well as Glendale's alone, and every one is urged to be present with questions or suggestions. In the meantime weigh these propositions, go out and inspect the sites and then come to the mass meeting on Saturday night.

Mrs. A. A. Barton,
Secretary of Committee.

TEACHERS ENJOY MOUNTAIN HIKE

A party of five young lady teachers, three from Pasadena and two from Glendale—Miss Gladys Sharpe and Miss Carol Duncan, had a delightful week-end mountain outing. The two Glendale ladies joined the rest Friday afternoon and with them spent the night at the home of Miss Louva Harsh in the Arroyo Seco. The next morning they hiked to Switzer's Camp where they found a big crowd of jolly people like themselves enticed to the mountains by the wonderful weather. The following morning they crossed the ridge to Mount Lowe, taking it by easy stages. On the north side of the trail they found snow in many places in spite of the sun so hot that wraps were uncomfortable. After resting at Alpine Tavern they took the P. E. incline car for Altadena, reaching home Sunday night.

THE LIBRARY GIFT

DEDICATES AND BESTOWS UPON GLENDALE CHILDREN NEW BASEMENT ROOM

Not the least important of the Christmas celebrations was the dedication and use for the first time of the new room at the City Library on Harvard Street which has been prepared for the Children's Department. On Wednesday in response to invitations which had been given out over the desk and through the Evening News, about seventy-five little folks gathered for an hour of Christmas stories which were told them by Miss Laura Wilford Brown. While the room is not absolutely finished, there being tinting yet to be done, in its essentials. it was ready and Mr. Stanford, the contractor, had made an especial effort to have the heating apparatus installed and ready for use at that time. The room was decorated in the Christmas colors and there was a handsome little Christmas tree with a small gift for each child, and a few to spare, so if any little boy or girl there knew of another child who was not there and who was ill or lonesome, that boy or girl could take two gifts and be the messenger to convey the extra one to the other child.

Before the stories began Mrs. Danford made a little talk to the children in which she told them that the room had been prepared for their special use and was being presented to them as a Christmas gift by the library board on behalf of the taxpayers of Glendale, all of which seemed to please the children very much, as did also the stories which followed and which Miss Brown told in her best manner.

Members of the staff at the Harvard Street Library are most appreciative of a Christmas gift presented to them by Charles Cushing, librarian at the branch on Los Feliz and Brand. It is a handsome sword fern which is now adorning the library for the pleasure of patrons as well as librarians.

SUGAR RANCHES

SHIVES C. MITCHELL DESCRIBES METHOD OF CONDUCTING THEM BY THE COMPANY

Shives C. Mitchell of King City came down last Wednesday to see his wife and son, Billy, who had been with the mother and grandmother, Mrs. Ella Richardson, since Thanksgiving Day. They will accompany him home on Saturday. Mr. Mitchell is with the Spreckles Sugar Co. in King City, near which place is located one of the big ranches on which beets are raised for the factories at Salinas and other points. The beet crop in that region was almost an entire failure this year, Mr. Mitchell says, and the company drew heavily on its supplies of cane sugar produced in Hawaii to meet the demands of its customers. Each of the big ranches controlled by the company raises all the vegetables and meats used by the employes, and in the busiest season the King City ranch slaughters five or six steers daily and provides other eatables in proportion. Mr. Mitchell is not conversant with the marketing plans of the company, as that is out of his line, but says that a few weeks ago he heard that the wholesale price to brokers was 9 cents a pound. The company paid $9 a ton for beets this year, on the average, though the sugar content fixed the price. Each car of beets received at the factory was tested for the percentage of sugar contained and then those testing highest were used first. The dried beet pulp now brings $45 a ton, and is used extensively for the feeding of dairy cows.

DEATH OF MRS. MARTHA BOTT

Mrs. Martha Bott of Los Angeles, step-mother of Clyde H. and W. N. Bott of Glendale, died Saturday last of heart failure. She was 79 years of age. The funeral was held Monday, with interment in Evergreen cemetery, Los Angeles. The Bott families of Glendale attended the services.

NEW THEATRE PROJECT CAUSES JUMP IN VALUES

The definite announcement that the new theatre building at 124 S. Brand was certain to be built caused quite a flurry in real estate circles. Several lots in the vicinity have already changed hands and there has been a decided stiffening in prices. This is the invariable result of such an enterprise upon a city's prosperity.

MRS. SOPHIA C. PORTER

DIED AT A GREAT AGE AFTER MANY YEARS OF USEFUL CHRISTIAN LIFE

The mortal remains of Mrs. Sophia C. Porter of 405 East Harvard, who died last Friday night at 8:30 after an illness of only four days of double pneumonia, were interred in Forest Lawn cemetery Monday afternoon after a simple, quiet funeral service in the Jewel City Undertaking Company parlors, conducted by Rev. E. H. Willisford. The only daughter, Miss Carrie, and the younger son, E. Y. Porter, of Riverside, with his wife and three daughters, were present at the services. The elder son, H. Montague Porter, lives in Chicago, and could not come.

Sophia C. Porter was born in Farmington township, Conn., on the 600-acre homestead where her father first saw the light of day and which his father had pre-empted from the crown lands early in the 18th century. Her natal day was January 22, 1838, hence she was almost 82 years of age. Her husband's name was Alphens Gordon Porter. They lived in the vicinity of her birthplace until 1889, when they moved to Lincoln, Neb., on account of Mr. Porter's health. He died there in 1893 and seven years later the widow and children went back to Connecticut, living in Hartford for three years, then moved to East Orange, N. J., where they remained until 1908, when they came to Glendale.

Mrs. Porter and her daughter were charter members of the Congregational Church here and the mother often described herself as a Congregationalist of 200 years' standing, as her ancestors on both sides were of that faith through five generations.

Mrs. Porter's father traced his lineage back unbroken to the year 1040, and on his mother's side to Captain Miles Standish of Plymouth colony. And his great-great-great-grandfather, Miller, tutored for the Congregational ministry President Porter of Yale College. Mrs. Porter's saintly life was a blessed heritage to her children.

PHI KAPPA GAMMA PARTY

A very pretty party which took place in Los Angeles at the Marwick apartments at the corner of Eleventh and Lake, Los Angeles, last Saturday, was enjoyed by a number of Glendale young people. It was given by the Phi Kappa Gamma Society of the Southern Branch of the U. C., and about 150 were present to enjoy the dance program. The holiday colors of red and green featured the decorations. The grand march led to a table on which a small Christmas tree was mounted with toy presents below enough to furnish a favor to each one. Serpentine and confetti added ti the hilarity of the dance, and cider was served instead of the usual punch of mixed fruit flavors. Those present from Glendale or former residents here were: Elizabeth Phillips, Catherine Phillips, Esther Schremp, Tom Phillips, Margaret Boucher, Marjorie Imler, Homer Planette and Marcella Miller.

"BILLY" SPENCER HAS ARRIVED

F. M. Spencer and wife of 119 E. Laurel Street received a belated Christmas present Saturday morning. It was a baby boy of standard weight and excellent lung power. Mother and child are both doing nicely. The parents have not selected a name, but the 4-year-old brother calls the little one Billy, and insists that that shall be its name. The Spencers have a little girl, also, 2 years of age.

IMPROVE RECENT PURCHASE

Vernon Putnam, who bought the S. L. Borthick place at 208 West Elk avenue, recently, has had hardwood floors put in on the entire second floor and in the first floor rooms not already so furnished. He has made other improvements to conform to the ideas of himself and wife and both are now well satisfied with their acquisition. The Putnams are friends of long standing of C. L. Booth and family.

HIGH SCHOOL COMMITTEE MAKING PROGRESS

The committee on High School site met Saturday afternoon to look over in daylight the three tracts offered as additional grounds, one fronting on Brand, another bounded by Louise, Glendale Avenue, Elk Avenue and Colorado and the third the block across Louise east of the present grounds and to meet and talk with interested parties. Two of the latter were present. The committee is to meet tonight in the High School auditorium to consider land values and to arrange for a mass meeting of citizens to consider the project in all its bearings, Monday January 6.

UNUSUAL CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turck of South Glendale Avenue and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hayden and son Julian who are spending the winter at Hotel Virginia in Long Beach, had an unusual Christmas celebration. They motored about sixty miles into the Owensmouth country carrying a complete Christmas dinner and full camp equipment in the way of tables, camp chairs, dishes, etc., and spread their table under the most wonderful live oak tree Mrs. Turck says she ever saw. It had a spread on one side of ninety feet and on the other of 120 feet and the trunk was eighteen feet in circumference. The day was so warm that it was delightful to picnic in that fashion and especially charming to the easterners.

On Friday Mr. and Mrs. Turck entertained Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dickinson of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Mary Stanton and son, Frank Rudel, of Indianapolis.

WEEK OF PRAYER TO BE OBSERVED

Members of one of the advanced classes under Miss Terry in dramatic art are to have an opportunity to "speak in public on the stage" some time this week, for they have been invited to contribute to the program of the Twentieth Century Club and will put on a skit entitled "The Kleptomaniac," a little society play.

Those who will take part are: Dorothy Shaw, Helen Ingledue, Edna Farner, Agnes Tupper and Harriet Barnes.

Personals

Misses Florence and Corinne Heacock of Compton spent Sunday with their grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Timmons.

B. O. Cole and wife of Boyle Heights spent Sunday afternoon and evening with their sons, Rev. Clifford, John D. and Forrest Cole.

Robert Freeman, manager of the Chaffee Grocery store, who has been living at 353 Milford Street, is moving today to the O. L. Kilborn apartments, 501 Vine Street.

Homer Lockwood's new six-room bungalow at 221 West Lomita Avenue is just about completed and is considered quite an addition to the street.

Mrs. Chas. H. Toll of Kenneth Rd. was summoned yesterday to the hospital in Los Angeles where her son, Hulbert, has been, it having been found necessary to remove his tonsils.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Clay of Santa Monica and Mrs. C. M. Roach of Long Beach are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Kugler of 220 North Orange. They expect to remain over New Year's day.

Chas. H. Darling and wife who recently returned to Glendale from Moline, Ill., are living in a part of John Bloss' house at 459 Hawthorne while Mr. Darling is repainting and otherwise improving their own home at 528 Oak Street.

J. E. Audet and family, who lived for several years at 435 Vine Street and last year sold their place to Joe's brother, G. C. Audet, after moving to Daggett, motored down on Monday, the 22nd, to visit relatives here and in Los Angeles.

Miss Meda Warner of Geneva, O., and her niece, Mrs. Bernice Seward of Riverside, with whom she is spending the winter, were the guests Saturday and Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Haines of 212 West Lomita avenue, old friends of Miss Warner.

Rev. Clifford A. Cole and wife and Miss Amelia Weishing motored to Long Beach Monday to visit the Massie home for old people and deliver to the inmates the gifts of food and clothing gathered for them by Sunday School children of Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. John White Garver who have been guests in the home of Mrs. Garver's father, William M. Read, at 701 North Central Avenue, have taken a house at 528 North Maryland Avenue, where they will be at home to their friends.

Mrs. Charles Bosserman, mother of Le Roy Bosserman of this city, and his sister, Mrs. Dresser and little daughter. Margery Jane, are en route and expected to arrive in Glendale Wednesday. They come from La Porte, Ind., and will be guests in the Bosserman home for the balance of the winter.

Mrs. L. B. Helfenstein and daughter, Florence, of Pasadena were guests Monday of Mrs. J. H. Springer, 530 Oak Street, and other friends here. The Helfensteins lived at 522 Oak Street several years ago, then bought property at 340 Myrtle and moved into it. This they sold about a year ago and moved to Pasadena. They have a wide circle of friends in Glendale.

The exciting sporting event of the week is the basket ball practice game which the team of Glendale High is to play against L. A. High on Wednesday. Both are strong teams, and it is certain to be a close contest. Max Price is the captain of the local team.

The Knights of Pythias are having a holiday party for "Pythian Children" tonight. There will be a tree, Christmas decoration, games, music and refreshments. The little guests will, of course, be the children of members. It will be given in the lodge hall at Brand and Park Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Burke of Tacoma were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Booth of Lomita Avenue Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Burke is one of a large number of life insurance agents attending a convention in Los Angeles New Year's week, who was associated with Mr. Booth with a Des Moines, Iowa, company.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wilbur of 327 West Cypress Avenue entertained on Christmas with a dinner at which covers were laid for ten, viz., Mr. and Mrs. Duvol of Casa Verdugo, Miss Laura Hunsaker of Douglas, Ariz., Miss Lila Frost of Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shipman, the host and hostess and daughters, Ida and Harriet.

A function, attended by a large number of Glendale people and described as "a beautiful card party," was given Friday evening by Mrs. Seymour Thompson of Beverly Hills. About sixty were present. Mrs. Thompson is the daughter of Mrs. William Porter of 823 North Brand Boulevard, and has a large circle of friends in this city.

Miss Katherine Green, sister of Max Green of this city, expects to leave Washington, D. C., for home about the 17th of January. She has been a government employe there but is resigning her position to return to Southern California to assist her brother, who publishes the Los Angeles Review, a legal publication.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Moser of East Windsor Road entertained on Christmas day the parents of Mrs. Moser, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Ayers of 1121 South Central Avenue, her brother, Ed Ayers of San Francisco, and Miss Alice Duey of Pasadena. Miss Duey remained and is now the guest of Mrs. Ayers. Miss Duey and Mrs. Ayers are very old friends.

The Christmas party at the home of Dr. A. M. Duncan on San Fernando Road seemed considerable reduced this year by reason of the absence of the Hillmans and their children. Covers were laid at the family dinner for Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Myers, their daughters, Ida and Harriet Myers, Mr. and Mrs. John Cate, Dr. Duncan and Miss Carol Duncan.

Mrs. Bement, head of the sewing department, says there are about 26 enrolled for the second year work and about 75 for first year sewing, taught by Miss Smith. This compares very favorably with city schools, Los Angeles High, for example, where she found only fifty enrolled when last she visited it, in spite of the large number of students attending.

Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Willisford are having great pleasure in entertaining Rev. and Mrs. Staunton W. Salisbury of San Francisco. Mr. Salisbury was a chaplain in the 82nd division and was associated with Mr. Willisford in France. They were together in the Argonne and St. Mihiel drives and their relations became very intimate. It is a great pleasure to the two men to be together again.

Several were greeted Monday, the list including Ruth Palmer, who is attending the art department of the Teachers' College of U. C., Dorothy Johns, of Eagle Rock, who is attending U. C.; Muriel Gardner, who is attending Pomona College; Mabel Munyon of Eagle Rock, who is enrolled at U. C.; Olive Taylor and Ebert Slaght, also of U. C.

Walter Deacon, who lived for several years at 519 Oak Street and after his marriage about five years ago moved to Arrowhead Springs to work for the Arrowhead Electric Co., is still with them and has regained his health. Three children have been born to him and his good wife. Walter is a nephew of Mrs. W. C. Bradley and a brother to Mrs. Edna Irene Sawyer, both of Oak Street, and has many friends in that section of the city, who will be glad to know of his welfare.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Henderson of 401 West California Avenue are having the pleasure of entertaining several groups of guests during the holiday season. On Christmas day they had with them Rev. and Mrs. Philip Hinkley, returned missionaries from China, who are enjoying a furlough in Southern California with the intention of returning to the mission field as soon as their health is fully restored. Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hinkley of Fresno were with them Saturday and for the week-end, also Dr. and Mrs. V. M. Hinkley of San Bernardino. Both of these couples will return to their home this week.

Give God a Chance

A Watch Night Service Wednesday Night to Which Everybody is Invited, Under C. E. Auspices.

WHY SHOULD I GO?

Listen, Folks:—
"I" should go to Give God a Chance.

Read This:—
"Without Divine intervention the world and its people will plunge into chaos.
"The people of America must go down on their knees and ask for Divine aid.
"In prayer alone hope exists."

That's not the statement of a preacher; it's the statement of a great newspaper editor and business man, Alexander P. Moore, owner of the Pittsburgh Leader. The same word is being uttered by other great business men and statesmen today.

Man has had his chance.
Materialism has had its chance.

And look at the results—a world in a welter of turmoil and tragedy. Let's end the old year and begin the new, not in a spasm of empty emotion, but rather in a solemn surrender and real resolve and a powerful prayer to Almighty God to save us from the miserable mess we have made and set us on the right road at this new milepost in the course of our lives. To save the world from chaos we must be saved from self.

EVERYBODY WELCOME

New families who are coming to Glendale from all parts of the United States and buying homes here, are bringing new pupils to the schools. Three were enrolled at Intermediate Monday. One came from a Chicago suburb, one from Des Moines and the third from some equally distant point.

Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman and family and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Chapman and two children, from Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, are visiting their sisters, Miss Chapman and Mrs. Groutage of 312 North Belmont. They had counted on a visit with their brother, Gilbert T. Chapman, but he passed away before their arrival. They are very much pleased with Glendale and expect to remain through the winter.

THE BOSSERMANS HOME AGAIN

Leroy W. Bosserman and family arrived at home last Tuesday from their auto trip of four weeks through Northern California, Oregon and Washington. They went as far north as Seattle and greatly enjoyed their visit, which included the many scenic drives in the Columbia river region, near Portland, Ore. Just before starting on this trip they had arrived at home from a several months' trip to the old home, La Porte, Ind.

On the day after their arrival from the auto trip, Mrs. Bosserman's parents, L. B. Ashton and wife, got back from a several months' outing, during which they visited Michigan City, Ind., and Chicago, winding up with a six weeks' tour of interesting points in Washington state. When they left Tacoma there were seven inches of snow on the ground.

E. J. Porter and wife and their three daughters, Frances, Mildred and Sylvia, of Riverside, were summoned to Glendale on Christmas day on account of the serious illness of Mrs. Porter's mother. They arrived in time to see and be recognized by her and remained for the funeral services.

Fred L. Clemens, whose home is at 517 North Kenwood Street but who has been in Kingman, Ariz., for some time, accompanied by his friend Mr. Johnson, came home to spend Christmas with his family. The entire party spent Sunday at the beach and the two men left Monday for Arizona.

ducks, geese, quail and grouse are plentiful in those regions also, and these, too, he readily finds for his patrons. When the snows begin to fall in December and his duties as guide are ended for the season, then he begins to set his traps and all the long winter through he visits them regularly to glean the rich spoils they yield. On one of these rounds two years ago he discovered the tracks of an immense bear crossing his path and though armed only with a .38-caliber revolver he at once decided to follow them on horseback. And follow them he did, for nine miles, his dog leading the way. Finally the bear was treed, and, taking careful aim with his revolver, Reuben fired, taking Bruin fairly between the eyes and killing him instantly. His skin measured seven feet from nose to tail and seven and one-half feet between the tips of his front paws. Asked if he ate any of the meat of the bear Reuben said no. Bears look too much like dogs to him and he can't think of eating their meat. This was a cinnamon bear that he killed. He has never tackled a grizzily. Asked if he had any early memories of Lassen in eruption he said no. It is only in the past three or four years that he has noted anything of the kind.

He has seen eight feet of snow on the level many times, though three to five feet is an average. He has heard of eleven feet on the level but has never seen it. He has frequently "mushed" 25 miles with his two dogs driven tandem and pulling a sled laden with skins or provisions.

This is Reuben's first visit to a large city. Red Bluff and Chico were the largest towns he had seen. But this trip ha dits novelties in that it was Reuben's first ride on a railroad train and street car. We liked it all exceedingly well and declares this will not be his last journey into the world.

EDITORS ECONOMIZE

to adopt such economies in the use of paper as will reduce consumption to the utmost consistent with absolute business requirements during the year 1920, and until the present emergency is past.

These economies will include the elimination of all free publicity and the reduction of the volume of automobile and theater publicity, the reduction of the size of headings and of body type where practicable, and such other means of reducing the size of our papers as conditions may make possible.

Also, in view of the admitted fact that publishers have had to meet great increases in the cost of materials and are now facing increases in the cost of print paper for the year 1920 which will equal or exceed 50 per cent above costs during the year 1919, it is impossible to wholly provide for or absorb this added cost by means of economies. The Southern California Associated Dailies therefore face the necessity of announcing to their constituencies increases in both advertising and circulation rates, and effective the first of January, or as soon thereafter as reasonable notice can be given, such increases in advertising rates and in the price of papers to subscribers will be announced, the amount or percentage of such increase to be left to the judgment of the individual publishers in their separate fields.

PRICE OF POTATOES SOARING

The lowly potato, commonly called spud in California. is now aviating alarmingly in price, being now above $5 a hundred, wholesale. It is claimed this is a direct result of the control of the market by George Shima, the potato king of California, who not only cultivates 250,000 acres, but controls the output of nearly a million acres that his countrymen have in charge.
